LOWES MODERN SLAVERY STATEMENT

As a trusted and leading retail chain dedicated to providing quality schoolwear, menswear and unisex clothing, Lowes – Manhattan Pty Ltd is committed to upholding its ethical, social and legal responsibilities, including those that apply to human rights and fair working conditions.

Lowes is part of a small group of companies which have been in business for 125 years and is still 100% Australian owned. We acknowledge the risk of modern slavery in our business and supply chains, particularly as a result of using overseas manufacturing facilities, and are committed to meeting our obligations under the Modern Slavery Act 2018 (Cth).

We have a zero-tolerance approach to modern slavery in our own business and throughout our supply chains.

This Modern Slavery Statement is prepared in accordance with the requirements of section 14 of the Modern Slavery Act 2018 (Cth).

We have a range of measures in place that form our responsible sourcing guidelines. All employees of Lowes, or agents working for Lowes, must always comply with these guidelines. They must ensure that any supplier, either local or offshore, must always fully comply.

The following represents the minimum requirements Lowes requires in regard to all our suppliers.

All suppliers, either local or offshore, must comply with all laws, regulations, building codes, and industrial regulations of the country or countries in which they operate, always.

Every factory that produces garments for Lowes must provide Lowes or its agents with their annual compliance certificate.

Work conducted for Lowes cannot be subcontracted to another supplier. To ensure this every production run is checked both during manufacturing and at the time of shipping to ensure compliance as part of our quality assurance process.

Lowes staff members conduct inspections of the facilities and working conditions for all suppliers in the countries we source from.

Additional to this, Lowes has engaged third party provider 'Intertek' whom is a globally recognised leader in governance and assurance to conduct Audits of our factories and validation on previously obtained audit assessments.

Lowes will not accept, under any circumstances, any of the following practices from the suppliers we deal with:

- Child labour
- Unsafe working conditions
- Illegal conduct
- Corruption
- Excessive work hours
- Discrimination

- Forced labour of any kind
- Denial of the right of freedom of association and of collective bargaining.
- Inhumane treatment

Lowes' goal is to only engage suppliers who operate under acceptable human rights conditions and protect workers' human rights. To monitor this, every supplier is subject to an independent audit on an annual basis. Audits conducted under the Business Social Compliance initiative (BSCI) which is an initiative of the Foreign Trade Association (FTA) are an example.

The audit covers the following areas.

- Producer's background
- Management practice
- Health and social facilities
- Occupational Health and Safety
- Dormitories (if applicable)
- Environment
- Documentation
- Working hours
- Compensation
- Child labour
- Young Workers
- Forced labour
- Disciplinary measures
- Prison labour
- Freedom of association
- Collective bargaining
- Discrimination/harassment and abuse
- Working conditions.

Lowes will not source from a manufacturer who fails one of these annual audits.

Lowes seeks to form close, long-term relationships with its providers to better enable us to ensure that these guidelines are enacted.

This statement is made pursuant to section 11 (2) of the Modern Slavery Act 2018 and constitutes the Lowes – Manhattan Pty Ltd's slavery and human trafficking statement for the financial year ending 2023 and was approved by the CEO on 30th of November 2023 .

SIGNED: MRS LINDA PENN

REPORTING ENTITY

ENTITY: LOWES - MANHATTAN PTY LTD
ABN: 31 000 307 666

The reporting entity preparing this statement is Lowes – Manhattan Pty Limited ACN 000 307 666 of Level 2, 240-242 Princes Highway, Arncliffe NSW 2205.

This Modern Slavery Statement covers the following entities, each of who are reporting entities:

- Lowes – Manhattan Pty Limited ACN 000 307 666; and
- Menswear Finance Co Pty Ltd ACN 002 677 778

We have an annual consolidated revenue of $230-260 million and process approximately 6 million transactions per year.

As a family-owned business, Lowes is part of a small but elite group of companies, which have been in business for 125 years and still 100% Australian owned.

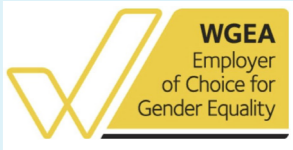

For over a century, the company has been built on integrity, forward planning and financial success. Today, with 196 stores nationwide, it continues to expand steadily as it has for many years.

In a brand conscious society, while many outfitters have paid dearly to charge more for a somewhat pretentious, upmarket image, Lowes have maintained a simple, down to earth integrity in the way they have conducted business for over a century. Since it was founded in 1898, it has grown from a traditional “value for money” menswear store to become a well-known Australian icon in its own right.

DATA SECURITY

Beginning of financial year 2023, Lowes embarked on a risk management review and strategy to minimize cyber-attacks on its business infrastructure. The first action taken, was to establish an Internal Integrity Unit (IIU) made up of critical members of the business including, the Chief Financial Officer, Chief Advisor, Credit Manager, Senior IT architects and developers, representatives of Digital Marketing and our off site IT support team at BDE.

The aim of the team is conduct regular reviews, looking at vulnerabilities and total disruption possibilities in the event of a cyber-attack. Areas of risk identified include provisions to minimise identity theft and any other threats to potential database victims. In addition, the team will simulate attacks to cross check the programs and to test the framework. Our cyber response would take a multi-faceted approach which is in the form of an ongoing review to maximise and iterate any new marketplace nuances.

The team meets up once a quarter and will work hard to ensure Lowes remains market safe with robust systems and penetration tests.

RISK

IDENTIFYING, MITIGATING & REMEDIATING RISK OF MODERN SLAVERY

Risks of modern slavery in any international retail supply chains are dynamic and complex. We are constantly reviewing risks to prioritise our efforts where there is greatest impact to people in our operations and supply chain.

Since 2019, we have conducted risk assessments designed together with our advisor partner Intertek, a compliance and sustainability solutions provider. These assessments are informing our Responsible Sourcing Program and areas of focus. This year, we focused on supply chains. These assessments focused on the inherent risks of exploitation involved in producing the products in our supply chains.

Lowes Menswear acknowledges the following modern slavery risks as most salient in our supply chains.

The types included, forced labour, debt bondage, deceptive recruiting for labour, forms of child labour, restrictions of movement, intimidation, threats and human trafficking.

We do not directly employ any staff overseas so this lowers modern slavery risks within our direct team. Therefore, our operational risk assessment focused on the only areas of the business that use contracted labour or service providers whose workforce engaged with us in overseas locations. We have less direct visibility and control over these workers and their employment terms. We have visited these locations and undertaken assessments of the work environments to ensure they comply with local legal conditions and do not provide conditions for potential risks for modern slavery conditions. We are working on improving auditing in this area as it is new operational environment.

The products we sell in our stores and online are sourced from 9 countries. Each of these products and sourcing countries presents a different set of human rights challenges, including risks of modern slavery. We source products from suppliers that are both vendor and non-vendor branded. With our own branded products we are more directly connected to these products because suppliers are producing and packing products directly for our business, which means we have greater connection to the workers and influence to re-mediate breaches.

Generic, wholesale or non regular suppliers will be subject to further risk assessment. Similarly where our suppliers themselves source their supplies from, such as cotton, provides additional levels of risk.

This risk assessment will allow us to “segment” suppliers into three groups: priority, moderate and minimum. Each segment will have different due diligence requirements based on associated risks. We are still developing our supplier segmentation methodology.

Mitigating and re-mediating risks of modern slavery is a high priority and we are developing new Policy frameworks to build upon our long standing practices of strict supplier agreements and regular 3rd party audits in the country of origin for our products.

We are enhancing our set of policies and procedures that articulate our values, ways of working and expectations of our suppliers that will be reviewed regularly. This policy framework will ensure that our suppliers clearly understand our expectations.

Strengthening supplier contracts is one of the key ways in which we articulate our human rights expectations and control the potential risk of modern slavery arising in our global supply chain is through our contracting process with our direct suppliers. Building on existing Responsible Sourcing provisions, modern slavery specific provisions have been incorporated in our many of our trade procurement contracts and Vendor Trading Terms. We have mandated to have these provisions in all ongoing agreements.

We use our Slavery Compliance Statement, which is a supplier modern slavery compliance confirmation. We request the supplier to sign and provide this statement to Lowes on the commencement date of an agreement and on each anniversary of the commencement date during the agreement term.

Lowes recognises that it may contribute to a greater risk of slavery in our supply chain by placing pressure on suppliers by such means as asking for reduced costs or better quality. We will be factoring this into our future risk assessment profiles for suppliers

We recognise the importance of building greater understanding of modern slavery risks and our requirements with the team members who are responsible for supplier relationships and oversight so that they are equipped to provide guidance to our partners to comply. We have and will continue to raise awareness via training for all team members in this area.

“Strengthening supplier contracts is one of the key ways in which we articulate our human rights expectations and control the potential risk of modern slavery”

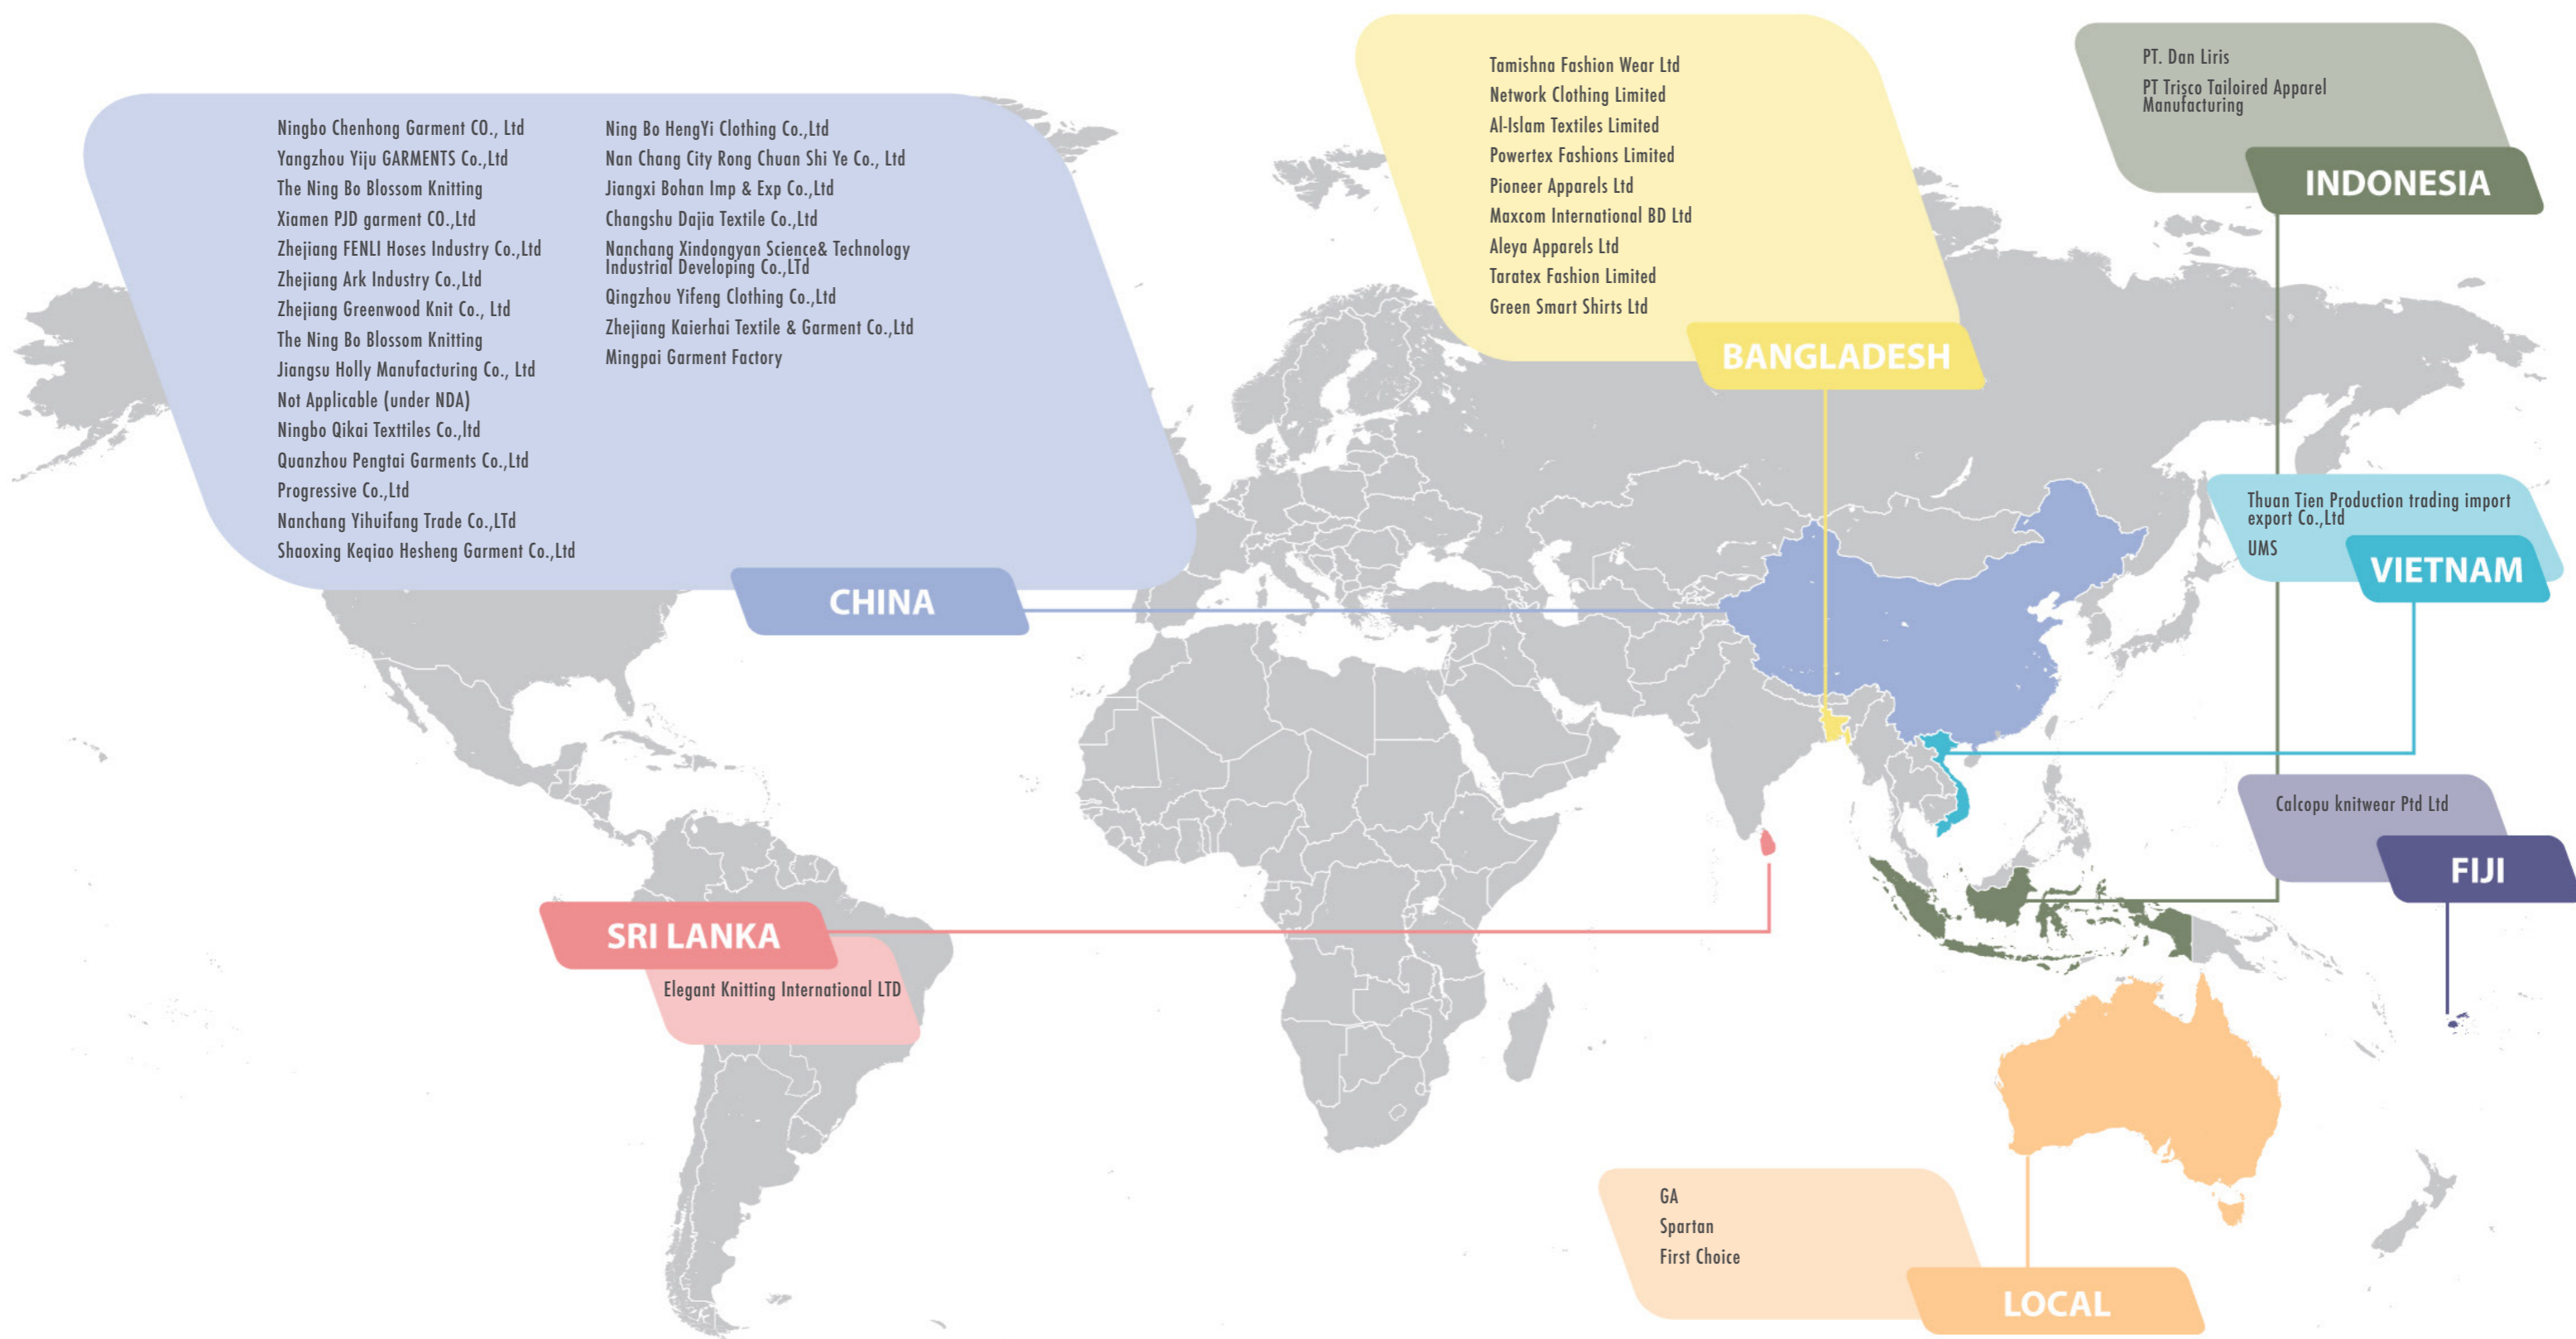

CONSULTATION WITH CONTROLLED ENTITIES.

Where Lowes held a “controlling interest” in the entity Menswear Finance Company Pty Ltd we met with the entire team to educate, raise awareness and set our expectations in mitigating modern slavery risks. We provided documentation outlining our expectations and will provide a copy of this document upon its completion. Lowes does not have a controlling or any other equitable interest in any other entity.

Lowes undertakes that if we do in the future look to take a controlling interest in another entity, a full risk assessment and audit for risk of modern slavery will form of our assessment before we take control and based on that we will undertake the appropriate actions.

LOWES FORMALLY ENGAGES INTERTEK TO FACILITATE ALL ACTIVITIES

The panel recognised the need to engage a third party to validate audits.

Lowes understood the need to consult with third party resources and databases, by utilising consultants and having them evaluate slavery this would broker an arrangement to remediate identified deficiencies and where necessary terminate supplier factories that refuse / fail to comply with procedures and guidelines

Intertek results yield several decision-making factors based on previous audits and how these dictate future frequency of audits. Audits are scheduled in advance with the suppliers in order to foster relationships of co-operation and trust, we only suggest unannounced audits when we suspect violations.

CONTINUOUS IMPROVEMENT

Early 2020 Lowes embarked on a continuous improvement approach well before any sanctioned reporting and compliance. In order to officially report and demonstrate our commitment to respecting human rights, Lowes CEO, Mrs. Linda Penn developed a 'Lowes Panel' to formalise agreements with all sectors of our Supply Chain and goes to market to engage 'Intertek' to set strategic benchmarks to monitor activities in accordance with the Modern Slavery Act 2018

LOWES PANEL FOR MODERN SLAVERY COMPLIANCE

Lowes is committed to bilateral long-term outcomes that benefit suppliers, schools and our consumers. We recognise robust negotiations are inevitable in business practice and contribute to innovation, efficiency and the long-term sustainability.

Lowes policy has always been for the suppliers to provide certification of factory audits as evidence of compliance.

These were usually in the forms of various certificates:

- BSCI
- SMETA
- QIMA
- ISO 14001 (Environmental management System)
- ISO 20400(Sustainable procurement)
- ISO 9001(Quality management systems)

2024 Commitments will Focus on not using Products not adhering to the (RSL) Restricted Substance List

The Panel consists of 4 leadership members whose areas govern Technical operations, Sarann Ryan, Merchandise Control, Elizabeth Dornan, ESG Manager Tim Zhu Human Resources, Jason Heap and Head of school Operations Mathew Hunt The panel meets every quarter to initiate, forecast and remediate on all supply chains.

This consists of;

- Reviewing and aligning all international standards and policies by communicating standards and requirements to our agents and business partners.
- Evaluating by continuing to monitor compliance by conducting a pre-sourcing assessment with our agents. All buyers and Merchant controllers submit any new supplier to the panel for review.
- Capturing the performance of our factories by reviewing the outcomes of all audits conducted by Intertek
- Schedule audits for the next fiscal year.

LOWES JOINS SEDEX IN THE COMMITMENT TO SOCIAL AND ENVIRONMENTAL SUSTAINABILITY.

PACKAGING & PLASTICS

Plastic is a popular material used to make many products given its versatility and reasonable cost. Lowes recognises the large volumes and wide-spread use of plastic causes a big problem for our planet, sea life and wildlife when it's thrown away. We are committed to reducing the impact of our plastic products, product packaging, store and distribution centre waste on landfill.

We have a responsibility to eliminate the worst forms of plastic and to transition to recycled content, and recyclable or compostable options, where possible.

COMMITMENTS

By January 2024, 25% of the plastic used in our own packaging will be made from Biodegradable, recycled or plant-based materials*.

OUR APPROACH

We are conducting a baseline assessment of our plastic usage and composition in own brand products, as a first step in developing a roadmap to meet our target on problematic plastics by 2025, and our 2026 targets in relation to recycled content.

We are also looking at hanger recycle programs to implement by late 2024.

OUR PROGRESS

We are working to comply with new governments requirements in relation to single use plastic and minimum standards for reusability.

We have phased out single use plastic shopping bags in WA and QLD and ACT will continue this roll out across the country to have all replaced by December 2024.

- We will move to recycled polybags in all Schoolwear products by Sept 2024
- We will move to recycled polybags in all Menswear products by the December of 2025
- All e-Commerce shopper satchels will move into Biodegradable content by mid 2025

*Plant-based plastics can be made from, for example, vegetable oils, corn starch, straw, woodchips, and food waste. They are an alternative to fossil-fuel based plastics, which are made from petroleum or natural gas.

Biodegradable / compostable plastics can be decomposed by the action of living organisms, usually microbes, into water, carbon dioxide, and biomass.

Lowes recognizes the harm of polybags. These Plastic bags are difficult and costly to recycle and most end up on landfill sites where they take around 300 years to biodegrade.

They break down into tiny toxic particles that contaminate the soil and waterways and enter the food chain when animals accidentally ingest them.

Lowes has been regulated by the State governments in an effort to move away from plastics and is committing to a full transition into biodegradable poly bags by the end of 2024.

Lowes will move to a compostable garment bag made from annually renewable plant crops like corn, sugarcane and potatoes. After use, they can be decomposed by microorganisms, through a process of industrial bio degradation, into biomass that can be used as fertilizer for plants.

RFID INVENTORY MANAGEMENT & TRACEABILITY

At Lowes, we've embraced the cutting-edge potential of RFID technology to revolutionize our business operations. The introduction of RFID marks a pivotal moment, propelling us toward a more efficient and connected future. With this innovative system, we're empowered to streamline inventory management, enhance customer experiences, and pave the way for unprecedented advancements. As we embark on this journey, we eagerly anticipate the transformative possibilities that RFID will bring.

COMMITMENTS

March - April 2024, All 1200 Lowes staff commence RFID training and e-learning modules in preparation of RFID Roll out

By January 2025, full saturation of RFID tags on all Lowes products

By June 30 , Digital Product Passport, QR CODE look up feature to report on all trackability of products.

OUR APPROACH:

To bring about operational efficiencies to the the store network, by implementing RFID technology which allows us to track inventory throughout the retail supply chain, from our factories overseas to our warehouse shelves all the way to the sales floor.

Unlike traditional barcode, RFID allows for the scanning of multiple items at once. This means faster and more accurate data collection, reducing the time and effort required for inventory management and asset tracking.

RFID technology minimizes the risk of human error in data entry and scanning, ensuring that our information is always up-to-date and accurate. This not only saves time but also prevents costly mistakes.

This also means we will have instant data updates; Head office can make informed decisions on stock levels, track the movement of goods, and respond quickly to changes in demand all with the swift wave of a RFID reader.

"Via the QR code consumers can now, see traceability on Lowes garments. From the factory to the Sales floor to the recyclability components."

"Setting up our RFID in our Western Australia office, shaping a brighter, more efficient tomorrow for Lowes and our valued customers."

DESIGNING FOR CIRCULARITY - WORKSHOP

Lowes is dedicated to comprehensively and authentically enacting and demonstrating key modules from each tier of the Lowes Risk management program – Modern Slavery Streams pg.34

THE FOLLOWING METRICS APPLIED FOR THE SEMINAR:

- Continuous improvement
- Lowes Gap analysis tool
- Internal training
- Staff awareness presentation

THE OBJECTIVE:

To bring in specialist textile designers to align our future commitments to circularity.

This November Lowes hosted an insightful workshop centred around the crucial concept of 'design for circularity.' This forward-thinking initiative underscores our commitment to sustainable practices and innovation within our industry. During this engaging event, industry experts, thought leaders, and innovators converged to explore the intricate aspects of circular design—a paradigm shift towards creating products and systems that prioritize sustainability, durability, and recyclability.

THE ATTENDEES:

Head of Merchandise, ESG Manager, Buyers, Buyers Assistants, Product Developers, Head of Schoolwear, Schoolwear Account Mangers, Head of B2B. 40 attendees.

THE APPROACH:

To look at key products categories across the business and scrutinise fabrication, trims and hardware dyes and procurement processes and to make recommendations to remedy / tweak designs to fall within circular practise.

THE KEY LEARNINGS:

We don't have to compromise on aesthetic or quality to bring about change in our products.

BlockTexx consultation with our Workwear Buyer.

FOLLOW-UP REPORTING:

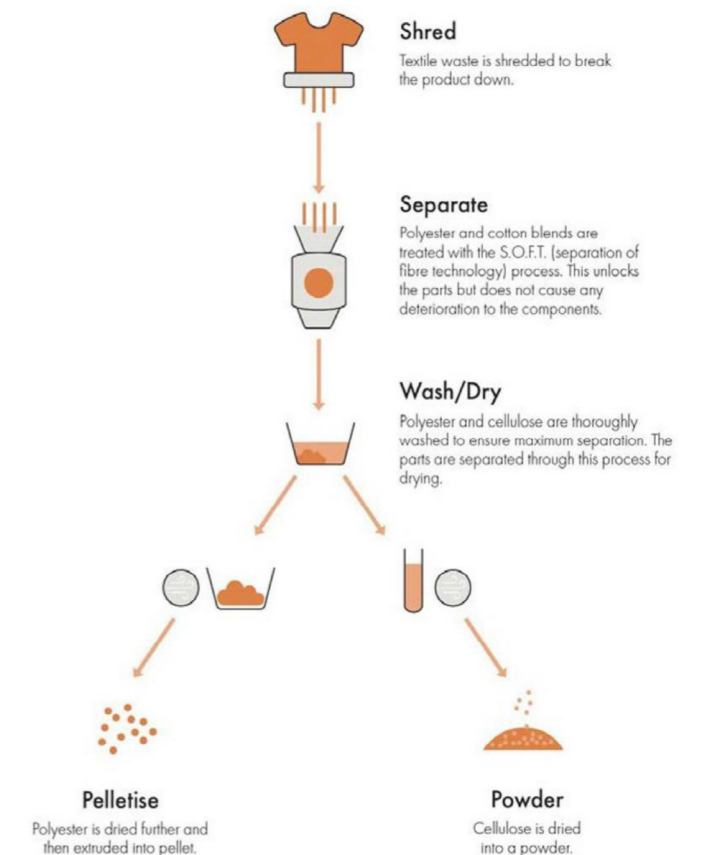

Quarterly assessment with Head of Merchandise & ESG Manager.

CONTENT

Adopting the BlockTexx, Separation of Fiber technology process as a framework for Product development, we can pre-asses during the development phase of the garment, how we can design for end of use.

With Global textile consumption a focus for all retailers, Lowes will play its part addressing volinartly. The Australian Federal Government has commenced transitioning the nation to a circular economy, with historic mandatory regulations issued this year to reduce the issue of waste in packaging with indicators that textiles will be in the near future.

LOWES GATEWAY PROCESS

MENSWEAR & SCHOOLWEAR PRODUCTION AND DEVELOPMENT TRAINING AND INTERNAL ACCOUNTABILITY

Our commitment to upholding global standards require that all areas liaising with external suppliers/ agents must adhere to company sanctioned policy. All staff at head office are required when onboarded into the company to review our core policies. Lowes has an extensive learning management system regulated by HR called the Lowes Academy.

INTERNAL TRAINING

Lowes Academy is for all 1206 staff and is sectioned into core areas managed by our internal intranet called the Lowedown.

All staff here have individual user profiles that monitor the training modules and the timeframe for completion.

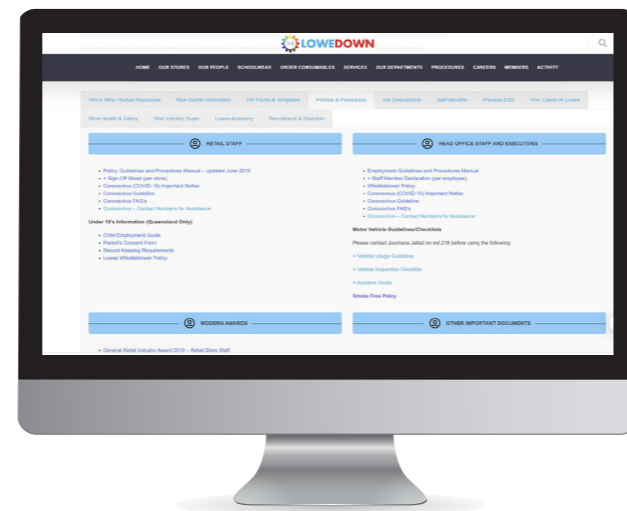

These modules include all work health and safety modules, compliance and ethics training, our company may take disciplinary action against any worker who violates our policy.

WHISTLE-BLOWER

We have a whistle-blower hotline accessible on the Lowedown that is available to all staff and this has now been extended to agents and factories.

GATE PROCESS

Lowes developed The "Gate Process" which is a project management technique to keep all buyers, product developers and planners accountable in the developing, sourcing and purchasing phases. The gateway is reinforced at the leadership level, it unpacks the process to make sustainability and waste management a key performance indicator for all personnel involved.

The Gate way is divided over a few stages.

These stages are separated by 'gates'. Each stage is the decision point for whether or not to proceed to the next stage. This decision is made by a manager or steering committee. The quality of the idea, finances, timeframe and succession rate is all assessed at each of the gates. After each gate, one of the following decisions can be made:

- Go – Concept is good enough to proceed to the next stage
- Kill – Concept is not good enough to develop further and is therefore shut down
- Hold – Concept is not good enough to continue with development at this time but has enough merit to not be shut down. It will be put on hold to possibly be resumed at a later date.

The Gate Process consists of several stages, which are connected to each other by gates. Each stage is designed to collect specific information:

- Stage 1: Scoping/Range Justification/ Feasibility
- Stage 2: Design
- Stage 3: Development & Wear Trial
- Stage 4: Final Sign Off/Launch

Gate 1: Scoping/ Range Justification/ Feasibility

- Concept – Describe idea and identify where it fits in core range/ our fashion demographic
- Design consideration - specify styles, colours, sizing, fit, features
- Proposed deletions – suggest any existing styles/SKUs for deletion (e.g., style it will replace or styles that are not selling)
- Rationale – specify/justify reason(s) for launching and how it will grow the business (sales, profits etc.)
- Competitor analysis – present any competitor styles that have similar products already in their range.
- Competitive advantages – list the point of differences between our product and competitor's product (e.g., features and benefits, price point etc.)
- Target financials – target price per unit,

proposed volume (per colour), proposed budget

- Agreed timing – to be discussed during Gate 1 (e.g. launched at the best time of year to ensure peak sales).

- Sign off

Gate 2: Design

- Design – present to team: research, initial design sketches, fabric options, colour options and costings.

- Sign off

Gate 3: Development & Wear Trial

- Create specifications
- Arrange 1st development samples of the design in selected fabrics (jump size set)
- Conduct fit and wear trials (on numerous body shapes and sizes)
- Assess fit and wear trial feedback
- Revise specifications and organise 2nd development samples (if required)

- Present to team

- Sign Off

Gate 4: Final Sign Off/Launch

- Confirm styles, colours and order quantity
- Sign Off: price per unit, volume (per colour), total cost of order, GP%
- Issue final QC report to supplier
- Garment Set Up
- Raise Purchase order
- Lock in Ex/factory date

APPAREL DEVELOPMENT PROCESS

RECEIVE SAMPLE REQUEST

Account Manager → Product Team

This is the brief. It includes everything from identifying the school, outlining their request and needs in detail, desired timeline, price point and size range. This can be accompanied by samples for reference to colour, fabrics and embroidery.

CREATE ARTWORK

Product Team → Graphics → Account Manager

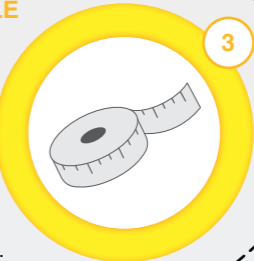

The concept is almost ready to come to life! This is the phase where sketches become interpreted. Storyboards are drawn up to show the design of the garment, trims, fabric, colours and logo details. This helps the school see the indent style or uniform range. Before the sampling stage begins, this is the time to make any design changes and get the schools tick of approval.

DEVELOP TECH PACK & REQUEST SAMPLE

Spec Technician → Product Team

The tech pack is the blueprint for each piece of apparel. It has details ranging from the style's description, trims, fabrics, size range, placement of logos, packaging and manufacturing details. The tech pack is sent to the supplier and the first sample is requested.

RECEIVE SAMPLE & OBTAIN APPROVAL

Product Team → Account Manager

Sample arrives and the QA/Spec Technician checks the sample against the tech pack, ensuring the product is made as initially requested. Sample is presented to the school and approval/sign off is acquired. Worst case scenario, the school rejects the sample. Repeat steps 3 & 4 until approval is obtained and the product is perfected.

GARMENT SET UP

Product → Spec Tech → Data Integrity Admin

Garment request forms are completed. Final quality control comments are issued to the supplier and costings are confirmed. The style is set up in pronto and a 5-digit number is created.

FORECASTING & ORDERING

Planners → Stock Control Team

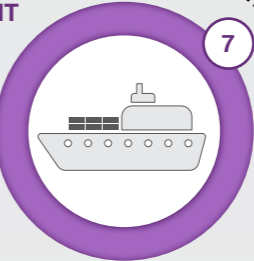

The style is quantified and units per size are determined. An official purchase order is raised and sent to the supplier. Bulk production is now underway.

PRODUCTION & SHIPMENT

Spec Technician → Production Co-ordinator

Fabric is made. Pre-Production sample is sent for quality control and approval. Bulk production is completed and a shipment sample is sent for final sign off. The order is shipped to warehouse and delivered to stores.

CIRCULARITY - TO DATE

RECYCLE | UPCYCLE | DONATE

Our waste Management approach is complicated comparative to regular fast fashion. Our garments are bespoke distinctive wear that cannot be resold or reused based on copyright and contractual obligations.

Our continuous improvement committee join the Lowes Modern Slavery panel on request to pitch for new and improved methods to handle waste management and sustainability.

This paved way for an affiliate program monitored by our continuous improvement committee to have our textiles recycled and prevented from landfill.

BLOCKTEXX

Lowes continuous improvement committee met with Adrian Jones Director/ Owner of BlockTexx, he concluded that our fabrications met all criteria for his facility.

85% of Schoolwear items contain polyester cotton, deeming it fit for resource, recycling and re-raw material handling.

SEPARATION OF FIBER TECHNOLOGY

BlockTexx owns proprietary technology that separates polyester and cotton materials such as clothes, sheets and towels of any colour or condition back into their high value raw materials of PET and Cellulose for reuse as new products for all industries.

The recovered PET is polymerised to create virgin-quality S.O.F.T. branded rPET plastic pellets and polyester fiber suitable for use in textiles, packaging, building products.

The recovered cellulose is processed to create S.O.F.T. branded cellulose powder for use in many industries such as textile, pharmaceutical and food.

BlockTexx is leading a global movement toward a circular economy for our customers and production partners, by developing planet focused solutions that divert textile waste from landfill and into sustainable product

DESIGNING FOR A SUSTAINABLE FUTURE

Lowes and BlockTexx are working in collaboration with our Head Product Development and Procurement Manager Debra Vo to design in mind with highly recyclable materials as part of the design and development process, with the first meeting to look at substituting nylon buttons for polyester buttons, this will aid block texx in the cycle economy.

Debra Vo is also in negotiations regarding our sublimated polos to use recycled ranges moving forward.

WORN UP - UPCYCLING

ABN: 87 610 520 619

HTTPS://WORNUP.COM/

Worn up grew out of Sustainable Schoolwear. Worn up which had been making school and corporate uniforms since 2016 decided to take back the uniforms they made so they didn't go to landfill. Worn up no longer produces uniforms but now exclusively collaborates with rag traders and big retailers to identify products that can be reconstituted into newer products, these products are categorized as "up-cycled" as they can be broken down and re purposed many times.

Worn Up and the Textile Rescue Program work with Schools, corporates, Councils and sports associations to keep as many uniforms out of landfill as possible and turn them into a raw material for new products.

Worn up and Lowes began collaborating July 2020 and was the first major retail school supplier to commit to a 30 carton per month minimum to reduce and donate fabric for the upcycle program.

Worn up as a collective have achieved the following to date.

DIVERTED FROM LANDFILL: 50 TONNES

M3 SAVED: 500 CUBIC METERS OF LAND SAVED

What You Should Know About Lowes New RFID Policies

We're excited to announce Lowes RFID initiative is commencing in 2024. How do you get ready for it? Lowes is requiring their vendors to include an adhesive RFID label on their items. We've prepared some essential information to assist you in your preparation.

Why is Lowes using RFID technology?

Radio-Frequency Identification, or RFID, is a technology that uses low-power radio waves to transmit information from an embedded microchip to a nearby RFID reader. One of the many well-established use cases for RFID technology is in retail ticketing, where product tags and labels are embedded with RFID microchips and encoded with product information. This allows for product information to be retrieved wirelessly, and without the need to have direct line-of-sight to a barcode, QR code, or another similar label.

RFID product tags may also be read more quickly, and when used appropriately, are more accurate than traditional inventory management systems.

In using RFID technology Lowes now requires use of RFID-encoded product tags. RFID-enabled ticketing is a critical advancement towards providing our customers with the best possible experience when shopping our brands. RFID-encoded product tags support better inventory visibility and more accurate, real-time views of our inventory so that we can anticipate and proactively address our customers' expectations.

Who will benefit from UHF RFID?

Ultimately both you as a supplier and Lowes will be the beneficiaries of greater accuracy of stock and replenishment data which we envisage will lead to a higher frequency of items ordered from suppliers. Lowes wants all participating national, proprietary, supplier, and private brands to adhere to their RFID mandate with a view to enhanced customer experience within our stores, higher sales, and a greater ability to control our inventory.

Specifications for RFID

Lowes requires its suppliers to use a Gen 2 UHF RFID tag with a frequency of 902-928 megahertz to tag their products.

RFID tags must be compliant with GS1 EPC Gen2v2 (ISO/ IEC 18000-63) standard and SGTIN-96 encoding schema.

Checkpoint has been appointed as Lowes RFID label provider partner and will support with label supply, encoding, and printing via their proprietary Checknet platform. User guides and training in all geographies where Lowes and our vendors have production facilities will be provided.

What is the Best Way to Encode the Tags?

A standardized label language was created by GS1, which means that an RFID label may be read anywhere, by any company. This allows our Lowes stores to receive your products in a more seamless manner and get them out on the floor sooner.

Your product's UPC barcode is combined with a unique serial number to create an EPC. This is a 12-digit barcode that identifies your company, product, and kind of product. Checkpoint will provide support and FAQ's for all label encoding queries.

Important Deadlines

Lowes implementation schedule is rapidly approaching. These are the important dates to keep in mind.

September 25th 2023 - Checkpoint training for Checknet users will be available either in person or via video link. Your Checkpoint contact will connect with you directly to set a training date and time.

October 1st 2023 - Checkpoint Checknet RFID label ordering portal will be "live".

March 1st 2024 - All production for Lowes merchandise March 1st onwards must comply with the RFID labeling specifications. Lowes will commence in-store testing after that date, followed by roll-out and implementation.

Steps to Follow

Please contact Geoff Paine at Lowes via email if you have any concerns or would want to discuss your RFID requirements. We're here to assist you in achieving our combined goals.

TERMS OF TRADE

1. About these Terms of Trade

1.1 These Terms of Trade apply to every contract that you enter into with us for the supply of products to us, and take precedence over any conflicting terms or conditions mentioned elsewhere, whether implied by law, trade, in your correspondence or otherwise.

2. Entering into contracts with Lowes

2.1 Before a contract can be entered into, you need to first send us a quotation. Each quotation is an offer from you to supply the products listed in the quotation to Lowes.

2.2 A contract will only be considered formed when:

- Lowes sends a purchase order to you referencing the quotation;
- Both parties agree on the specifications for the products; and
- Lowes provides you with a tech pack for the products, unless we inform you that a tech pack isn't necessary.

2.3 Once a contract is formed, you agree to sell to us, and we agree to purchase from you, the products as per the contract, free of encumbrances.

2.4 After a contract is entered into, the contract cannot be varied unless the variation is in writing and signed by you and us.

2.5 To the extent of any inconsistency between these Terms of Trade, a quotation, purchase order, the specifications or tech pack, the document listed first in this sentence will prevail.

3. Lowes policies

When performing your obligations under contracts, you must comply with all applicable Modern Slavery Laws, the Lowes Code of Conduct, the Lowes RFID Technology Policy and all other Lowes policies that we notify you of, in each case as amended by us from time to time.

4. Quality requirements

4.1 You guarantee that, in respect of each contract, upon delivery and at all other relevant times:

- The products will meet the specified quality and description in the contract;
- They will match all approved samples, designs, and descriptions provided to Lowes;
- They will adhere to the specifications (subject to any allowances described in the specifications);
- They will meet all applicable Australian and New Zealand standards;
- They will be free from any legal claims or encumbrances;
- They will be of good quality, suitable for their intended use, and without defects in materials or workmanship;

- They will comply with all applicable consumer protection laws;
 - They will meet all relevant statutory and regulatory requirements; and
 - They will be of such quality and in a form that will allow Lowes to supply the products (without modification) to consumers in full compliance with the Australian Consumer Law.
- 4.2 If any product does not comply with the above guarantee (in whole or part), Lowes may, in addition to pursuing any other rights or remedies:
 - Return the non-compliant product to you at your sole cost and risk; or
 - Require you to provide us with a credit for the non-compliant product.
5. Quantity requirements
- 5.1 You must deliver the correct quantity of products as stated in the purchase order, undersupplied or oversupplied by up to 5% (except for contracts for the supply of quantities of more than 200 items of any school wear products: the undersupply/oversupply limit is 10%). If you otherwise deliver too much or too little, in addition to exercising any other rights available to it, Lowes can reject the incomplete deliveries and send back any excess items at your sole cost and risk.
- 5.2 We may give you estimates of how many products we think we'll need in the future. These estimates aren't a promise to buy that exact amount, but if we provide a written estimate of how many products we might need and agrees on a price with you for those products:
 - You need to make sure that you have enough stock to fulfill orders for that estimated quantity for the 18 month period commencing on the date of the first order; and
 - If we don't actually order at least 80% of that stock set out in the written estimate ("Minimum Order Threshold"), you can require us to place more orders until they together reach the Minimum Order Threshold.
6. Your inspection, warehousing and delivery obligations
- 6.1 You must store products in your warehouse for the period specified by us but in no event for more than 18 months, and we may draw down on such stock, by requiring you to deliver it to the delivery location specified in the relevant contract, unless otherwise agreed.
- 6.2 Before delivering, or making any products available, to us under any contract:
 - You need to carefully check them to make sure they meet all of the requirements of the contract and do not have any defects;
 - You must pack and secure the products so that they arrive in good condition at the destination and meet our packing requirements (including in relation to weight distribution).
 - You must provide us with a sample of each product for our approval and any additional samples we require, before delivering the order and only send the order when we have approved all relevant samples (we won't unreasonably withhold approval of any samples);
 - You must provide us with a packing list;
 - You must tell us in writing if you can't deliver any products as per the contract;
- 6.3 You and we agree that:
 - Where a purchase order specifies 'FIS', you must deliver the products in the purchase order within 10 days of the agreed delivery date;

Trading Terms

- Where a purchase order specifies "FOB", you must ensure the products in the purchase order reach the shipping company by the agreed ex-factory date; and
 - In all other circumstances, you must deliver the products in a purchase order by any agreed delivery date and ensure they reach the shipping company by any agreed ex-factory date.
- 6.4 If you fail to deliver products to us, or if you fail to ensure they reach the shipping company, by any applicable date referred to in clause 6.3, without limiting any of our other rights and remedies, we may:
- In respect of the 28 day period after the applicable date referred to in clause 6.3, impose a late fee on you for late delivery equivalent to 5% of the price payable by us for the products under the contract, for each 7-day period that expires after the agreed delivery date or agreed ex-factory date (as applicable) before the products are delivered (where a delivery date was agreed) or reach the shipping company (where an ex-factory date was agreed). You agree:
 - That the late fee is a reasonable pre-estimate of the loss, or an amount less than the loss, that we will suffer as a result of late delivery in respect of each such 7-day period; and
 - To pay the late fee to us within 30 days from the date of any invoice for the late fee that we issue to you; or
 - Terminate the contract for your breach of the contract, without complying with clause 10.1.
- 6.5 If we terminate a contract under clause 6.4:
- You must on demand by us compensate us for all and any loss and damage that we suffer as a result of the late delivery and termination of the contract, including for our lost profits; and
 - You must attend a meeting with us at any time and location reasonably requested by us, to discuss the compensation payable to us.
7. Risk and property
- Except where otherwise agreed in writing by you and us in respect of any contract:
- You are responsible for the products until delivery to the delivery location specified in the purchase order.
 - Where required by us, you must unload the products at the delivery location, using all reasonable care and as instructed by us.
 - At all times, we exclusively own all intellectual property rights in the products, including in any designs, drawings, logos, patterns and other elements of the products and in any improvements ("Lowes IP") and to the extent you own any Lowes IP, by entering into the contract you assign all Lowes IP in the products to us.
 - Before entering into any contract, you must get written permission from the authors of any intellectual property rights associated with the products to transfer all intellectual property rights owned by them to Lowes and permission for Lowes to exercise all moral rights they may have that are associated with the products. You must provide us with evidence, upon request, of your compliance with this paragraph.
 - Other than as set out above in relation to intellectual property rights, we become the owner of the products, once delivered, except where we pay for them before delivery, in which case ownership transfers to us when payment is made.
 - You must not disclose Lowes IP to anyone, and you may only use Lowes IP to fulfil the contract and not for any other purpose.

8. Payment for the products

- 8.1 Product prices are stated in the purchase order. All such prices exclude Goods and Services Tax (GST), are fixed and are inclusive of delivery, packaging, shipping, carriage, insurance and duties, except as set out otherwise in the purchase order.
- 8.2 You must pay us an advertising contribution in an amount equivalent to 4% of the prices payable by Lowes under each purchase order, in the form of a credit note. This will apply each time a contract is entered into, but you only need to provide us with the credit notes within 30 days of our request. We will request the credit notes on a bi-annual basis.
- 8.3 We will pay the product prices within the 60 day period commencing on the date we receive a statement from you, for products that have been delivered and invoiced to us. Invoices must comply with applicable laws.
- 8.4 We will be entitled to:
- A discount of 3% off the prices payable under any contract where we make payment between 31 - 60 days from the date we receive a statement from you, for products that have been delivered and invoiced to us;
 - A discount of 4% off the prices payable under any contract where we make payment between 1 - 30 days from the date we receive a statement from you, for products that have been delivered and invoiced to us; and
 - Such other discounts for early payment as may be agreed by you and us from time to time – please contact us if you would like to discuss this.
- 8.5 We may also set-off any amount owing by you to us from any amount payable to you.

9. Indemnification

You must indemnify and hold us harmless from all claims and all liabilities, costs, proceedings, damages and expenses (including legal and other professional fees and expenses) awarded against, or incurred or paid by, us as a result or in connection with:

- Any alleged or actual infringement, whether or not under Australian law, of any third party's copyright, trademark, moral rights or other intellectual property rights or other rights arising out of the use, manufacture, sale, resale, supply or re-supply of the products (except in respect of intellectual property in designs that we provide to you);
- Defective workmanship, quality or materials in or in relation to the products;
- Any claim (including any claim arising out of the design, quality and regulatory compliance (or lack thereof) of any products) made against us in respect of any liability, loss, damage, injury, death, cost or expense sustained by us or our officers, employees or agents or by any customer or third party to the extent that such liability, loss, damage, injury, cost or expense was caused by, relates to or arises from the products as a consequence of a direct or indirect breach or negligent performance or failure or delay in performance of a contract by you howsoever arising;
- Any wilful misconduct or unlawful act or negligent act or omission by you or your employees, subcontractors or suppliers; and/or

Trading Terms

10. Termination of a contract

- 10.1 A contract may only be terminated in accordance with an express provision of this clause 10 or another provision of these Terms of Trade.
- 10.2 If you or we have breached a contract ("Defaulting Party") the other party ("Non-Defaulting Party") can terminate the contract by written notice to the Defaulting Party:
- If the breach cannot be remedied; or
 - If the breach can be remedied, but is not remedied within 14 days of the Defaulting Party's receipt of a written notice from the Non-Defaulting Party requiring the Defaulting Party to remedy the breach.
- 10.3 Either party can also terminate a contract if the other party suffers an insolvency event.
- 10.4 Termination of a contract doesn't change any rights, responsibilities, or liabilities that the parties had before termination, including the right to claim damages for any breaches that occurred before the contract ended.
11. General
- 11.1 Each contract and written variations agreed to in writing by you and us represent the whole agreement between you and us relating to the subject matter of the contract. A contract supersedes all oral and written negotiations, communications and agreements made by and on behalf of either of the parties relating to the subject matter of the contract. The United Nations Convention on Contracts for the International Sale of Goods is excluded from each contract in its entirety.
- 11.2 If the whole or any part of a provision of a contract is or becomes invalid or unenforceable under the law of any jurisdiction, it is severed in that jurisdiction to the extent that it is invalid or unenforceable and whether it is in severable terms or not, except where the severance would materially affect or alter the nature or effect of either party's obligations under the contract.
- 11.3 No party may rely on the words or conduct of the other party as being a waiver of any right, power or remedy arising under or in connection with a contract unless the other party expressly grants a waiver of the right, power or remedy. Any waiver must be in writing, signed by the party granting the waiver and is only effective to the extent set out in that waiver.
- 11.4 Any clause of a contract which by its nature is intended to survive termination of the contract shall so survive.
- 11.5 The rights and obligations under a contract cannot be assigned or novated by a party without the prior written consent of the other party.
- 11.6 You are an independent contractor and no relationship of agency, partnership or joint venture is formed under any contract.
- 11.7 You are wholly responsible for all acts and omissions of your employees, officers, subcontractors and suppliers as if they were your acts and omissions; and you and we expressly contract out of any common law and legislation that would otherwise permit you to apportion or exclude liability for the acts and omissions of your employees, officers, subcontractors and suppliers.
- 11.8 Each contract is governed by the laws in force in the State of New South Wales and the courts of appeal therefrom. Each party irrevocably submits to the non-exclusive jurisdiction of the courts of that state in relation to any dispute between the parties or proceedings commenced by either party concerning a contract and waives any right it has to object to the venue of any legal process in those courts on the basis that the process has been brought in an inconvenient forum or that those courts do not have jurisdiction.

1.5 Protected Disclosures Coordinator

The Protected Disclosures Coordinator is the Head of People. The Head of People will receive all information about all whistleblower events and performs the following functions:

➤ Support the welfare of disclosers

➤ Arranges for an inquiry/investigation into the disclosures made by the Whistleblower

➤ Ensures appropriate government agencies are notified about Whistleblower events where required

➤ Maintains a Whistleblower Register for trend analysis and to identify systemic issues requiring attention

1.6 Investigator

Lowes Manhattan Pty Ltd will investigate all matters reported under this policy as soon as practicable after the matter has been reported. The Protected Disclosures Coordinator who is the Head of People will appoint either an internal or external investigator to investigate the matter. Lowes Manhattan Pty Ltd may not be able to undertake an investigation if it is not able to contact the discloser. An example is if a disclosure has refused to provide, or has not provided, a means of contacting them.

The internal investigator may be the Governance Officer and or an appropriate person as appointed by the Governance Officer.

1.7 Investigation

The investigation will be conducted in an objective and fair manner, and as is appropriate having regard to the nature of the disclosure and circumstances. Where a report and/or matter is submitted anonymously, Lowes Manhattan Pty Ltd will conduct the investigation and its enquiries based on the information provided. Further, anonymity can at times prevent the business from taking the issue further if Lowes Manhattan Pty Ltd is not able to obtain further information from the source of the report.

1.8 Managers and Line Supervisors

All managers and line supervisors who receive a disclosure about wrongdoing must notify the governance officer and provide particulars and maintain confidentiality at all times.

1.9 Protection from detrimental acts or omissions

Lowes Manhattan Pty Ltd may refer to the following measures and mechanisms for protecting disclosers from detrimental acts or omissions (where applicable):

➤ processes for assessing the risk of detriment against a discloser and other persons (e.g. other staff who might be suspected to have made a disclosure), which will commence as soon as possible after receiving a disclosure;

➤ support services (including counselling or other professional or legal services) that are available to disclosers;

➤ strategies to help a discloser minimise and manage stress, time or performance impacts, or other challenges resulting from the disclosure or its investigation;

➤ actions for protecting a discloser from risk of detriment—for example, the business could allow the discloser to perform their duties from another location, reassign the discloser to another role at the same level, make other modifications to the discloser’s workplace or the way they perform their work duties, or reassign or relocate other staff involved in the disclosable matter;

1.10 Reporting a Disclosure

Lowes Manhattan Pty Ltd will need to assess each disclosure to determine whether:

➤ Disclosures will be handled confidentially,

➤ Each disclosure will be assessed and may be subject of an investigation;

➤ When an investigation needs to be undertaken, the process will be objective, fair and independent;

➤ It qualifies for protection; and

➤ A formal, in-depth investigation is required.

(a) Internal Whistleblowers

(Current or former employees, directors, contractors or consultants)

Internal Whistleblowers are encouraged to report their concerns to the Whistleblower Governance Officer to seek an immediate response. Where the internal Whistleblower believes this is not appropriate, then an alternative reporting mechanism is to report the matter to the Whistleblower Protection Officer.

(b) External Whistleblowers

(These individuals include: clients, customers, suppliers)

Where an external Whistleblower is reluctant to report it to the Governance Officer or the Protections Officer, they can report their concerns to the Managing Director of Lowes Manhattan Pty Ltd.

(c) Anonymous Reporting

Anonymous reports of wrongdoing are accepted under this policy. Anonymous reports have significant limitations that may inhibit a proper and appropriate inquiry or investigation. These limitations include the inability to provide feedback on the outcome and/or to gather additional particulars to assist the inquiry/investigation. Specific protection mechanisms may be difficult to enforce if you choose to remain confidential.

1.11 Protection

Lowes Manhattan Pty Ltd will adopt the principle of protection of the identity of internal and external Whistleblowers.

1.12 Confidentiality

Lowes Manhattan Pty Ltd will not disclose a whistleblower’s identity unless:

➤ The disclosure is required or authorised by law; and

➤ It is necessary to further an investigation and the Whistleblower consents to the disclosure.

Lowes Manhattan Pty Ltd will take reasonable precautions to store any records relating to a report of wrongdoing securely and to restrict access to authorised persons only.

1.13 Retaliation

Lowes Manhattan Pty Ltd will not tolerate any retaliatory action or threats of retaliatory action against a Whistleblower or against a Whistleblower’s colleagues, employer (if a contractor, consultant or supplier) or relatives. Any retaliation in reprisal for a disclosure made under this policy will be treated as a breach of serious misconduct and will result in disciplinary action.

A Whistleblower must not be disadvantaged or victimised for having made the report by:

➤ Dismissal or termination of employment, services or contracts

➤ Demotion of contract

➤ Discrimination, victimisation, bullying and harassment

➤ Aforementioned matters above.

1.14 Disclosure Management

Lowes Manhattan Pty Ltd recognises that individuals against whom a report is made must also be supported during the handling and investigation of the wrongdoing report. The business takes reasonable steps to treat fairly any person who is the subject of a report, particularly during the assessment and investigation process in accordance with an established support protocol which may be extended to include appointing an executive member of the leadership group to provide support.

Where a person is identified as being suspected of possible wrongdoing, but preliminary inquiries determine that the suspicion is baseless, no evidence or unfounded and that no formal investigation is warranted, then the Whistleblower will be informed of this outcome and the matter laid to rest.

Lowes Manhattan Pty Ltd will give its full support to a person who is the subject of a report where the allegations contained in the report are clearly wrong

Therefore, where an investigation does not substantiate the report, the fact that the investigation has been carried out, the results of the investigation and the identity of the person who is the subject of the report must be handled confidentially.

Further, where an investigation is conducted and the investigator finds there may be a case for an individual to respond, the Investigator must ensure that a person who is the subject of a disclosure:

➤ Is informed of the substance of the allegations;

➤ Is given a fair and reasonable opportunity to answer the allegations before the investigation is finalised;

➤ Has their response set out fairly in the Investigator’s report; and

➤ Is informed about the substance of any adverse conclusions in the investigator’s report that affects them.

1.15 Failure to Comply

Any breach of this policy may result in disciplinary action that could result in severance from Lowes Manhattan Pty Ltd.
